2013-11-12 Mary Murphy has spent a vicious existence at Wilson Medical Products rising to power by blaming faulty anti-FDA practices to get her boss, Dr. Lucy Pintell, fired and ostracized forever from the pharmaceutical industry. From the depths of despair, Pintell meets Dr. Harvey Brasher and together they form The Adjustment

Clinic, a clandestine agency that will root out and correct internal malpractices within a drug company and excise the corrupt people responsible for covering up drug toxicity. Under her new identity of Dr. Rowena Diaz, Pintell begins an eight-year journey to confront Mary Murphy and absolve Pintell's tainted physician legacy.

Dying to Recall: A Medical Thriller Chris Bliersbach 2019-08-27 A suicide, a break-in, an ominous warning. Is it a coincidence? Or have Jackie and Curt unleashed the wrath of vengeful pharmaceutical executives? Emboldened by the support of law enforcement officials and a prominent physician, Jackie and Curt embark on a crusade against AlzCura. They have compelling evidence of unethical business practices and countless numbers of unreported patient deaths related to their miracle cure for Alzheimer's. But when a key witness is found hanging in his office, their case against the pharmaceutical giant is significantly weakened. On top of that, Jackie's home is broken into, and an ominous warning was left on her wall. And someone posing as Curt's brother tried to pick up his kids from school. Shaken, Jackie and Curt must reassess the potential cost of continuing their fight. Would Jackie and Curt be able to garner sufficient support and evidence to bring AlzCura to justice? Or would their continued efforts bring down a reign of terror that would make them pay with their lives? Dying to Recall is the second book in the page-turning Table for Four medical thriller series. It's a captivating story of good versus evil with engaging characters who will take you on an emotional roller-coaster ride. Pick it up now. You'll have trouble putting it down. A portion of the proceeds from this series is donated to the Alzheimer's Foundation of America.

***** KNOWING TOO MUCH COULD BE THE QUICKEST WAY TO THE MORGUE...
When skilled cardiologist Brian Holbrook suffered an agonizing sports injury he was left with an addiction to prescription painkillers that eventually cost him his marriage and his license to practice medicine. But now, at thirty-eight, he has cleaned up his act, swallowed his pride, and is ready to start over. When the prestigious Boston Heart Institute offers him the opportunity to participate in trials of a new drug that could revolutionize medicine, he's thrilled. Vasclar may have the power to reverse arteriosclerosis, a heart disease and globally the number one killer. The initial results are so dazzling Brian pushes to get his own father, who has a dangerous heart condition, into the scheme. But soon Brian is uneasy. The mysterious disappearance of a colleague and deaths of patients on the scheme compels him to ask questions. However, with billions of dollars at stake, probing questions could cost him his career - and his father's life. For as Brian is beginning to suspect, knowing too much at the Boston Heart Institute is a matter of life and death...

Forbidden Cure Part Six: The Reckoning

William Rubin 2019-06-01 A debilitating disease. A tantalizing, yet dangerous, breakthrough cure. Will it be life and love or death and destruction? In the wake of his beloved wife's death, Detective Chris Ravello's life is in shambles. Overwhelmed by grief and dogged by an unrelenting, devastating disease, Chris abruptly resigns as the NYPD's Chief of the Division of Medical Crimes. But his hopes for a healthier, less-troubled life are short-lived. A harrowing near-death experience forces Chris to submit to a series of risky, ill-advised, and experimental treatments that will either cure him or kill him. As Chris' best friend, NYPD Detective Kevin Kennedy, investigates a series of perplexing and appalling deaths, he uncovers a disturbing truth - Ravello's cure has already killed four other patients. Just when all seems lost, hope comes from the unlikeliest of sources - an old nemesis making incredible claims: Michelle Ravello is alive and he can lead the detectives to her and their killer. But can Kennedy and Ravello trust one sociopath to catch another? And what is the terrible price they must pay for his cooperation?

The Cure Stan Fairbanks 2020-12 Destroyed Lives. A Mysterious Death. And a Cover-Up That Impacts the World The daughter of drug-addicted parents, Amy Spenser has amazingly grown into an intelligent, compassionate, and drug-free young woman. Her passion is helping those in need, in-between checking on her welfare abusing parents to be sure they haven't died from an overdose. Her research to find new ways of treating illnesses using the "God-given" properties of plants takes a new turn when her grandfather is diagnosed with brain cancer. Amy and her friends race across the world to discover the cure for cancer before she loses the only father figure she's had in her life. But if facing the thought of losing someone she loves isn't bad enough, dealing with the mounting medical bills devastates her family just when her grandfather is at his lowest. Then she finds what she's been looking for; not just a cure for cancer, THE CURE. But when a big pharmaceutical company gets involved, Amy isn't sure if it is just the help they need to change the lives of millions across the world or a wrong turn into something darker, especially when her amazing cure is proven to be a false hope during the initial trials. Amy knows that can't be true, but why would a company dedicated to saving lives quash the best chance at a cancer cure to be discovered? And if there really is a conspiracy, how deep does it go? Amy struggles to find the answers, but can she prove Big Pharma is only out to make a profit on treating symptoms rather than curing illnesses before someone else she loves dies from the same disease? A Cure to Die for Stephen G. Mitchell 2011-07 A genetically engineered cure for the common cold turns out to be a cure for cancer. It threatens to put a major pharmaceutical company, along with about half the medical community, out of business. They will stop at nothing to destroy it before it destroys them. Amid harrowing kidnappings, manhunts, political and corporate intrigue, Wall Street corruption, drug addiction, suicides, arrests and terrifying escapes--in the Montana wilderness, in the high-tech world of Houston, Texas, in the political cesspool of Washington, D.C., in the teeming jungles of Mexico and on a 26,000 square mile Indian reservation--a man and a woman fight to survive the perilous journey where the fate of a healthy planet hinges on the survival of a tiny seed. A crisis of medical and corporate greed sweeps the country. The government and the media conspire with the medical industry to keep a miracle drug off the market. The book is a medical thriller that is part adventure, part mystery and part love story; a novel about two people who stand against a broken world.

American Big Pharma wants her gone. China wants her as a bargaining chip to rule the world. She could save millions of lives. But now she's fighting for her own. On the brink of curing cancer, Gracie Green is eager to advance to human trials and share her findings with the world. But the FDA, and special interests in Big Pharma and a host of other people who stand to lose billions if cancer is cured, have other ideas. They hire expert assassin and Ex-CIA operative Jaco Ivanov; with one mission – wipe Greentech from the face of the earth! Hunted by an expert killer and framed for a terrible crime, Gracie finds herself on the run, struggling to stay one step ahead of Jaco and his vast assets. Caught between a murky world of shadow governments, assassins, and even China's quietly deadly intelligence network, her future hangs in the balance. There's only one thing none of them accounted for – the Black Ghost. Gracie will need more than luck to find the truth and bring her cure to the world. Can she hope to survive against such powerful enemies, even with the help of the legendary assassin who tops the FBI's most-wanted list...Or will the Black Ghost finally have met his match

Who Will Weep for Me Peter Glassman 2013-06-11 WHO WILL WEEP FOR ME Being half-Jewish half-Italian in 1950's high school was unique for Massachusetts Medford High Schooler Michael Waxman. Both Italians and Jews shared clannish ethnic bonding from their strong sense of family and persecution as minorities. Waxman finds identity with his Jewish teenage friends through a Hebrew youth organization called the AZA while retaining his Italian upbringing lifestyle in Little Italy in South Medford. Any anti-Semitism by Italian teens is countered by Waxman's friend and gangster classmate, Carli Santo. Surprisingly, Santo allies with Waxman and four of his Jewish friends while still nurturing his mob-like upbringing. In parallel time, Boston Latin School honor student Edmund Sorelli lives in Italian East Boston with his blonde unwed nurse mother. Sorelli studies hard as an outlet for his sense of isolation and sense of non-family as his mother frequents bars, men and booze on Saturday nights. Rosaly Sorelli doesn't know who Edmund's father was and doesn't care. She doesn't understand her son's anger and rage at her lifestyle and his sense of being different from his classmates. Sorelli vows to punish his mother and any girl at Boston Latin who behaves like her. Since high school graduation, the five Medford High students who had bonded closely continue to meet on a monthly basis at the College Deli in Somerville, Massachusetts. Each member has chosen a career path in which three are still within the education process. Michael Waxman is now a third-year medical student at Boston University and shares graduate school stories and angst with his high school friend and third-year dental student, Wendell Golden. Melvin Slinger chose a legal direction and is finishing Harvard Law School. Two of the group are already set in their adult livelihood. Carli Santo, the only non-Jew, had been in the auto-mechanical vocational high school program and apprenticed to a mob-connected chop-shop auto dealer and now has his own non-legal business. The female of the group, Deborah Sterling is a young nurse eight years out of high school still single and without romantic attachments. Edmund Sorelli has left the Army Military Police with a trail of three murders in Europe-each victim a blonde young nurse. He laughs and scoffs at the futile efforts of the Boston Police and the FBI to profile and find him as he continues his quest to prevent women like his mother from duplicating his illegitimate-child status. Life appears stable for all until Michael Waxman stares aghast at the projected slides of the 7th murder victim of the Boston Stocking killer during forensic pathology class. It's Deborah Sterling. Waxman brings the news to an emergency meeting at the College Deli and from the gloom of grief comes a resolve to seek out and destroy their close friend's murderer. Mel Slinger uses his Harvard law school connection to obtain information about the Boston Stocking Killer while Carli Santo uses his mob connections to do the same. They set out to identify and trap Deb Sterling's murderer ahead of the BPD and FBI who seem powerless to do so. Peter Glassman Resistant Michael Palmer 2014-05-20 They kill without conscience or remorse. They are the most ruthless enemy we have ever faced. And they are one millionth our size...Prepare to be shocked-and mesmerized-by Resistant, the latest novel of thrilling medical suspense from New York Times bestselling author Michael Palmer. When Dr. Lou Welcome fills in last minute for his boss at a national conference in Atlanta he brings along his best friend, Cap Duncan. But an accident turns tragic when Cap injures his leg while running. Surgeons manage to save the leg, but the open wound is the perfect breeding ground for a deadly microbial invader committed to eating Cap alive from the inside out. Meanwhile, hundreds of miles away, a teenaged girl is fighting for her life against the same bacteria. The germ is resistant to any known antibiotic and the government scientist tasked with finding a cure has been kidnapped. Turning to the Centers for Disease Control for help, Lou Welcome uncovers a link to a shadowy group known as One Hundred Neighbors that has infiltrated our society and is using our health institutions as hostages. Like the deadly germs they can unleash, One Hundred Neighbors will stop at nothing to further their agenda. From the hospital corridors where anything you touch can mean your end, to the top corridors of power in this race against time, Lou must stop an epidemic, save his best friend, and face even his own most terrifying demons. From the New York Times bestselling author comes another heart stopping thriller that will make you look at the world around you in a new and frightening way. Dark Cure: A Covid Thriller Bradley West 2020-11-04 WINNER "Best Medical Thriller, 2021" by American Fiction Awards COVID-20 ravages the planet. A baby and his mother's blood contain the cure and are kidnapped by mercenaries. In this medical thriller, biotech executive Sal Maggio plans to resettle his extended family in remote northern Canada out of the pandemic's reach. A researcher from Sal's company shares her experimental treatment that cures his near-death pregnant daughter and her unborn child. Sal's ex-boss conspires to bankrupt the company in return for the drug's ownership. Sal refuses to relinquish the last of the miracle cure or its formula.

The former CEO hires a rogue operator to kidnap the infant to barter for the wonder drug. A psychopathic biologist processes the newborn's blood into a commercial treatment. The baby's abductors put the Dark Cure for sale on outlaw websites in the expectation of a multimillion-dollar payday. The mercenaries next seize the mother as she represents a larger blood reservoir than the newborn. As the US collapses and scheming kidnappers fortify their hideout, can the outgunned group save the mother and baby and embark on an eighteen hundred-mile trek north to safety? "Dark Cure disturbingly imagines the near-future if Covid-19 mutates into a deadlier form. The writing is fast-paced and the plot fascinating." DON D. William Rubin 2019-09-16 New York City trauma surgeon, Dr. Christopher Ravello, has it all. A breathtaking, vivacious wife. Lovely children. Life-saving work, and a beautiful home in one of the City's most coveted neighborhoods. But in an instant, his world is shattered. The senseless assault of Ravello's mother leaves her barely alive, spurring him to forsake a lucrative career in medicine, and plunging him headlong into the brutal, unforgiving world of a New York City homicide detective. Head of the new Division of Medical Crimes, Ravello's first case pits him against a brilliant, sadistic serial killer preying on the City's most vulnerable citizens. Order your copy today of the thriller series that has dominated best seller lists on three continents since Forbidden Birth was first released in 2016. This box set contains the omnibus versions of books 1-3 in the series: Forbidden Beginnings, Forbidden Birth, and Forbidden Cure.

Michelle's Captivity Part Four: Ferocity
William Rubin 2019-06-03 A gut-wrenching death in his arms. A buried body gone missing. Is it an astonishing impossibility or the most torturous of deceptions? Savagely attacked by Dr. Jean Louis Durand on her thirtieth birthday, Michelle Ravello narrowly survives. Months later, during an FBI raid gone terribly wrong, she is killed at the doctor's secret compound in Westchester County, New York and laid to rest in a touching and tragic ceremony. Or is she? With never before seen material from Forbidden Birth, Michelle's Captivity weaves through the upheaval, angst, and danger of Forbidden Cure, showing Michelle Ravello in all her power and glory. But everyone who loves Michelle is convinced she's dead. Engaged in a solitary battle against all-powerful opponents, how can she possibly survive?

Forbidden Cure Part One: Duplicity William Rubin 2018-07-27 A debilitating disease. A tantalizing, yet dangerous, breakthrough cure. Will it be life and love or death and destruction? In the wake of his beloved wife's death, Detective Chris Ravello's life is in shambles. Overwhelmed by grief and dogged by an unrelenting, devastating disease, Chris abruptly resigns as the NYPD's Chief of the Division of Medical Crimes. But his hopes for a healthier, less-troubled life are short-lived. A harrowing near-death experience forces Chris to submit to a series of risky, ill-advised, and experimental treatments that will either cure him or kill him. As Chris' best friend, NYPD Detective Kevin Kennedy, investigates a series of perplexing and appalling deaths, he uncovers a disturbing truth – Ravello's cure has already killed four other patients. Just when all seems lost, hope comes from the unlikeliest of sources – an old nemesis making incredible claims: Michelle Ravello is alive and he can lead the detectives to her and their killer. But can Kennedy and Ravello trust one sociopath to catch another? And what is the terrible price they must pay for his cooperation?

The Druid Stone Peter Glassman 2013-10-17 The Druid Stone The High Priest hologram spirit of Stonehenge follows NY Times reporter Morgan Kane after a short UK tour. Kane and Library of Congress worker Martha Sorel are united as terrorists try a media intimidation to set the United Nations into two camps. The U.S. president does not want to see a world divided into pro-and con-terrorist country identification. It would define an Ally-Axis stance and set up conditions for WW III. Iran does want this and aims its deadly “test” missile at DC to force even Islamic countries to take a terrorist stand or perish. Holthar the high priest of Stonehenge appears to Kane and Sorel to use the only weapon that can save civilization—the power of light. Kane learns about the individual light spectra which can counter his enemies. Light emerges from his palms and eyes as rays of red, orange, green or yellow and each with a specific effect. Kane must reach Tehran to thwart its missile launch and finds an even more intense plot afoot. Only his role as the Chosen Templar of the Druid can save civilization if he doesn't get killed as ordinary human Morgan Kane.

OPERATES WITH LETHAL PRECISION... Dr Harry Corbett is on his way to visit his estranged wife, Evie, who is scheduled for surgery the next day, for what he hopes will be a quiet evening of reconciliation. But, without warning, he arrives to find her dead in her hospital bed. The police suspect murder, and Corbett is their only suspect... Harry is unprepared for the stunning revelations that follow. Leading a double life, his beautiful wife had uncovered a deadly secret - and when the killer strikes again, Harry is once more the sole suspect. Medically sophisticated, coolly arrogant, moving undetected through a busy urban hospital, it is clear to Harry that the killer can only be a doctor. Can he stop the killer in his tracks before any more patients receive his lethal silent treatment?

Memory's Hope: A Medical Thriller Chris Bliersbach 2019-11-13 The case against AlzCura intensifies until the FDA's shocking response to the data. Will the guilty parties walk, or will they be brought to justice? Jackie and Curt find solace in one another's company as law enforcement officials increasingly take over the case against AlzCura. Things look promising when AlzCura cooperates with a request to produce a person of interest. Only to have hopes dashed when the person commits suicide before being questioned. Hope is renewed when Food and Drug Administration officials ask to meet with law enforcement over the evidence against AlzCura. But their response to the facts is far from helpful and serves only to thwart the momentum of the case. With the crusade and the case against AlzCura at a critical juncture, would justice prevail? Or would the well-heeled executives with insider connections escape accountability for their crimes and the deaths of untold thousands who entrusted their lives to their

so-called miracle cure? Memory's Hope is the final book in the page-turning Table for Four medical thriller series. Cure Robin Cook 2011-02-04 The master of the medical thriller Robin Cook returns with Cure, a heart-pounding crime mystery. With her young son's potentially fatal neuroblastoma in complete remission, New York City medical examiner Laurie Montgomery returns to work at the Office of Chief Medical Examiner. Worried that she still has what it takes, Laurie finds her first case back to be a dangerous puzzler, involving organized crime and two start-up bio-tech companies caught in a zero-sum game. Satoshi Machita, a former Kyoto University researcher, is set to own a valuable patent controlling pluripotent stem cells destined to spark a trillion-dollar industry of regenerative medicine. When he dies on a crowded New York subway platform, Laurie must decide whether his death was natural - or something fiendish. Behind the scenes, there are people who would like to see Laurie as far away from the investigation as possible. Despite threats against her, Laurie presses on, until they extend to the person she loves most in the world: her son, JJ. Suddenly Laurie must face solving the crime - and saving her son's life.
