The Single Market in Insurance Andrew McGee 2019-01-22 First published in 1998, this volume was formally completed in July 1994, but completing the structure of the market is not all the same thing as having a genuine Single Market. This book explores the difficulties inherent in the concept of the Single Market in Insurance, as well as the practical difficulties of implementation. It looks to the future of the Single Market as well as at the present. It should be of interest to lawyers studying law or EC law, as well as to economists and political scientists interested in the development of Project Europe.

Financial Crisis J. Hendrickson 2013-02-05 This book offers a critical look at prominent theories of financial crisis to try to understand how prepared the profession is for identifying the next financial crisis. Life Insurance in Asia Stephan Binder

2009-04-06 The Asian life insurance industry is truly entering an inflection point. Coming off massive growth from the past several years, the industry has suffered greatly, along with the rest of the financial industry, in the 2008 financial crisis. Most life insurers across Asia have lost tremendous value in the wake of the crisis; a few are in significant distress. It is important not to lose sight of the longer-term outlook though: fueled by macroeconomic factors such as the emergence of the middle class, high savings rates, and the growing need to save and invest for retirement, Asia's life insurance market is expected to grow at double the rate of the US and European market over the next decade. The time now is ripe for insurers to establish regional partnerships to access these markets. This authoritative book analyses the life insurance landscape in Asia, including traditional life insurance, bancassurance, etc. It comprehensively overviews the Asian insurance industry, based on extensive research provided by the authors on business opportunities and key success factors. This is an accessible yet authoritative guide to a key market opportunity.

The Gold Standard Peripheries Anders Ögren 2011-12-16 The remarkably successful gold standard before 1914 was the first international monetary regime. This book addresses the experience of the gold standard peripheries; i.e. regime takers with limited influence on the regime. Basel III, the Devil and Global Banking D. Chorafas 2011-11-22 The banking industry extensively lobbied against Basel III and governments have been keen to delay its full implementation. Chorafas' latest book takes a well-rounded approach on Basel III's strengths and weaknesses and explains how, without deep restructuring of the global banking industry, (like Basel II)

Basel III will fail.

Household Finance D. Chorafas

2013-02-05 The 'good life' for households has passed. The unwanted result which accompanied it is the sea of red ink.

Confidence in the western way of life will not return until the current mess of a dysfunctional society, and its economy, is cleared out. Household Finance explains why and how this can be done.

Revival: The Economics of European Integration (2001) Willem Molle 2017-07-12

This title was first published in 2001. As economic integration touches ever more areas of society, more and more people are confronted by the bewildering complexity of the functioning of the European Union.

Rather than merely focusing on the description of EU policies, this study of the economics of European integration seeks to: select the most relevant aspects and developments; place the wide variety of issues in a robust conceptual structure; integrate theoretical developments with the results of empirical research and of policy analysis; explain the logic of the dynamic processes; describe the structural features of the European economy; highlight the response of private companies to changes in the regulatory environment; depict the "historical" developments so as to give a sound basis for the understanding of the present situation and the likely future development; and set the European developments in the light of global developments. In practice Western Europe is the focus of major parts of this book.

Wertschöpfung im Retailgeschäft der Bancassurance durch Kundenbeziehungsmanagement Claudia Maria Bürger 2019

Die deutsche Lebensversicherungsbranche wird derzeit mit zahlreichen Herausforderungen konfrontiert. Ein gesättigter Markt, permanente neue regulatorische Änderungen, erhöhte Kapitalanforderungen sowie das anhaltende Niedrigzinsumfeld sind die gegenwärtig relevantesten Einflüsse. Hinzu kommen Anforderungen von Verbraucherschützern, neue technologische Rahmenbedingungen beispielsweise in Form der Digitalisierung sowie die Marktausweitung von Fin- und Insuretechs. Auch das Kundenverhalten verändert sich hin zu steigenden Qualitätsansprüchen sowie einer rückläufigen Kundenloyalität, da im Internet durch die jederzeitige Verfügbarkeit von Informationen eine hohe Transparenz gegeben ist. Bancassurance, die Kooperation mit Banken für den Vertrieb von Versicherungsprodukten, ist und bleibt ein wichtiger Vertriebskanal für Versicherungsunternehmen. Diese nutzen sowohl das Kundenpotenzial als auch das Image bzw. die Markenpositionierung der

Bank für den Verkauf von Versicherungsprodukten. Vor dem Hintergrund der aktuellen Herausforderungen in der Lebensversicherungsbranche wird es zunehmend wichtiger, bestehende profitable Kunden zu binden und neue zu gewinnen. Diese Ziele verfolgt das Kundenbeziehungsmanagement. In der Lebensversicherungsbranche sowie im Vertriebskanal Bancassurance befindet sich das Kundenbeziehungsmanagement jedoch noch im Anfangsstadium. Die Dissertation findet daher Ansatzpunkte im Form eines theoretischen Modells, um das Kundenbeziehungsmanagement im Retailgeschäft der Bancassurance wertschöpfungsorientiert auszugestalten, in Bezug auf seine Wertschöpfung qualitativ zu bewerten sowie quantitativ zu planen und zu messen. Dr. Claudia Maria Bürger wurde 1980 in Bochum geboren. In den ersten Jahren ihrer beruflichen Tätigkeit war sie im Bankwesen tätig. Hierzu zählten Funktionen im Firmenkundenkreditgeschäft sowie später Tätigkeiten als Management Consultant in der Unternehmensberatung. Es folgte ein Wechsel in die Versicherungswirtschaft, in der sie seit 2008 in mehreren Bereichen tätig war. Hierzu gehören insbesondere leitende Funktionen in der Unternehmensentwicklung sowie im Kundenservice bzw. Versicherungsbetrieb. Nebenberuflich studierte sie Betriebswirtschaftslehre an der Fachhochschule für Oekonomie und Management mit den Abschlüssen Diplom, Bachelor und Master of Business Administration. Von 2015 bis 2018 war sie zudem externe Doktorandin am Lehrstuhl für Versicherungsbetriebslehre der Universität Leipzig.

depth analysis of one of the most important EU banking systems its attempts to weather the crisis.

The Concept of Permanent Establishment in the Insurance Business

Daniele Frescurato 2021-04-22
siness models adopted by insurance companies; and comparative analysis of double tax treaty policies adopted in a number of countries with respect to the permanent establishment provision in the insurance business, highlighting Switzerland for comparative purposes. In a concluding chapter, the author proposes changes to the definition of the dependent agent permanent establishment currently enshrined in the model treaties and their respective commentaries, aligning such a definition to the regulatory framework in which insurance companies conduct their business in countries other than that of incorporation. As a highly significant and timely contribution to the study of the interplay between insurance regulation and tax implications, this very original work will prove of especial value to practitioners in international tax and insurance law, as well as professionals in the financial services sector and tax academics.

Creating the Future with All Finance and Financial Conglomerates L. van den Berghe 2013-03-09 Creating the Future with All Finance and Financial Conglomerates comprises an academic search for an understanding of all finance and financial conglomerates. It presents a strategic and economic analysis of diversification strategies and the growing interface between different types of financial firms. On the basis of a solid analysis of theoretical foundations and practical value, the book develops basic concepts of creating the future: especially solutions in managing risks and fresh ideas for the development of integrated financial services. The structure of the book is logical: starting on theoretical foundations (section 1, part A) and examining the economic value of All Finance and Financial Conglomerates (part B), leads to creating a concept for the future (part C). Case studies add additional practical value to this research. The review of the subject is completed by aspects of risk management in this sector and by political guidelines for the EU single market (section 2). The book builds further on Professor Van den Berghe's first publication, entitled Financial Conglomerates - New Rules for New Players (published by Kluwer Academic Publishers in October 1995) and broadens the scope in the direction of strategic and managerial aspects. The following five aspects underline the innovativeness of the material: The volume is not only focused on the diversification of banks via 'bancassurance', but also analyses in depth the parallel developments in the insurance market, whereby insurers and insurance intermediaries launch themselves in the direction of 'assurfinance'; The material analyses not only the cross-selling of each other's products and the blurring of the market boundaries, but also the diversification, collaboration, and integration on all other levels and functions; New conceptual tools (the financial conglomerates control board) are developed to provide a more in-depth comparison of the many cases of this international trend; The book goes far beyond the categorisation of the mode of diversification, by looking at all managerial aspects of such a growth strategy; and The work looks at the economic and legal aspects involved as well as at the more strategic and managerial aspects. This research has been made possible thanks to the financial support of The LEVOB Foundation.
