2022-06-28 Seit Mitte des 18. Jahrhunderts ist die Kirchengeschichte ein Element im evangelischen Religionsunterricht. Durch eine historische Analyse von über 350 Schulbüchern und konzeptionellen didaktischen Entwürfen wird die Entwicklung der Kirchengeschichtsdidaktik von 1770 bis 2020 dargelegt und in drei Typen zusammengefasst. Sie wirft ein neues Licht auf die Geschichte des ev. Religionsunterrichts. Im zweiten Teil der Studie wird die Geltung der drei Typen systematisch überprüft und eine an Kompetenzen orientierte, praxistaugliche Didaktik (Ziele und Intentionen, Inhalte, Methoden) vorgelegt. [A Didactic on Church History ;historical analysis and didactic conception] Since the middle of the 18th century, church history has been a part of religious education. Through a historical analysis of over 350 Protestant religious schoolbooks and didactical conceptions, the development of didactics of church history from 1770 to 2020 is presented and summarized in three main didactical types. The description casts a new light on the history of Protestant religious education in the last centuries. In the second part of the study, the validity of the typologies is systematically tested and a practical didactic conception (as a competence model) is proposed.

Serving Older Teens Sheila B. Anderson 2004 In this lively and practical guide, notable teen experts and practitioners explain why service to teens in this age range is so important, and how you can enhance your Topics range from understanding older teen needs and creating a vital teen space to building and promoting a winning collection. Brimming with valuable insights, fresh ideas, as well as nuts and bolts directions, this is a must-read for all librarians who work with older teens. On the threshold of adulthood, these young people have immense informational needs that libraries are in a wonderful position to supply: information about colleges, about work, about relationships, and leisure activities. In this lively and practical guide, notable teen experts and stellar practitioners Sheila Anderson, Amy Alessio, Patrick Jones, Robin Lupa, and Kristine Mahood explain why service to teens in this age range is so important, and how you can enhance your collection and services to accommodate and win over this important group. Topics range from understanding older teen needs and creating a vital teen space to building and promoting a winning collection. Brimming with valuable insights, fresh ideas, as well as nuts-and-bolts directions, this is a must-read for all librarians who work with older teens. School Counselors as Practitioners Lisa A. Local Histories Patricia Donahue In Local Histories, the contributors seek to challenge the widely held belief that the origin of American composition as a distinguishable discipline can be traced to a small number of elite colleges such as Harvard, Yale, and Michigan in the mid- to late nineteenth century. Through extensive archival research at liberal arts colleges, normal schools, historically black colleges, and junior colleges, the contributors ascertain that many of these practices were actually in use prior to this time and were not the sole province of elite universities. Though not discounting the elites' influence, the findings conclude that composition developed in many locales concurrently. Individual chapters reflect on student responses to curricula, the influence of particular instructors or pedagogies in the context of compositional history, and the difficulties inherent in archival research. What emerges is an original and significant study of the developmental diversity within the discipline of composition that opens the door to further examination of local histories as guideposts to the origins of composition studies.

Testing Creative Writing in Pakistan Humaira Irfan 2018-07-27 This book investigates the impact of creative writing tests on classroom practice in Pakistan. All National Education Policies in Pakistan since 1959 have expressed grave concern at the deteriorating standard of Board Examinations but no significant steps have been taken to improve the examination system. The method of assessment in the Pakistani classroom is influenced by the Board Examinations, with the students memorising the essays and stories from their textbooks and reproducing them. The Board Examination tends to produce negative washback as it damages learners' creative talents.

Appropriate changes in the textbooks and the external examination, however, will, in turn, definitely improve the teaching and assessment practices in the classroom.

What Would Invite Them? Richard G. Thomas 2010-04 My most powerful learning experiences came from chats with my students regarding their learning activities. They were full of questions and ideas about learning activities that were important to them. They showed me how to think out of the box. They helped me to think about them as learners rather than focusing on dividing the textbooks up into time periods for the day. Schools are for children and should be about their learning activities. The learning activities should be brain compatible utilizing the knowledge about the brain and learning. Brain compatible activities are built on previous experiences, utilizing children's interest and needs to be challenging.
